Good morning Council Members,

The updated presentation has been placed on the preliminary budget website. There was a broken link that caused the error in the mill value slide. On the peer city comparisons, we added a slide showing mill values for each City, which fairly closely aligns with the relative size of each city. That is why the Mill Value per Capita slide seems to be a reasonable way to make the comparison more meaningful.

Additionally, I believe I misspoke answering Councilman Ramos' question regarding special assessment debt. The debt per capita chart includes all special assessment (SID) debt, not just citywide special assessment debt for each City since these are assessed against the property.

Please let me know if you have nay questions or need more information.

Best regards,

Dale
